

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

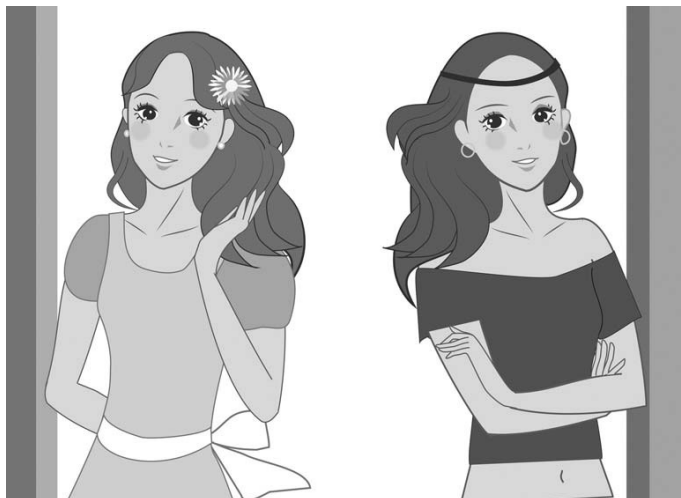

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Comparing and contrasting people and events!

Learning Outcome

Exchange information about unlikely events or fairly certain conditions that will be fulfilled in present, past or future in spoken or written texts and in work and social contexts.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about beliefs, opinions, relationships or character traits.
- I can express uncertainty about past events.
- I can express comparison between two things or events.

Ask your partner:

- What are the similarities/differences between you and your siblings?
- What are the similarities/differences between you and your best friend?

Let's Explore!

If I found out that my boyfriend smoked, that would be a definite deal breaker.

* A "deal breaker" is an issue or problem that will stop someone from agreeing to something.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Peter: Well, I just blew it again!
- Sally: What do you mean?
- Peter: I had a big argument with Amy.
- Sally: What about?
- Peter: She is leaving for Africa at the end of the week to do some volunteer work and didn't bother to tell me until today.
- Sally: Why did she wait?
- Peter: She said she didn't know, but she must have had some inclination. I told her she should have told me earlier so I could have been part of the decision process.
- Sally: Oh, Peter. I wouldn't have done that.
- Peter: Why not? I'm her boyfriend.
- Sally: You haven't been seeing each other long enough. You shouldn't try to control independent women. It never works out.
- Peter: You're right. I'm not as independent as Amy. She is this smart, adventurous woman.
- Sally: As smart and adventurous as me? Haha.
- Peter: Yes, and she is as tall as you are too, but she can't dance as well as you can. Haha. Anyway, I know she cares about our relationship as much as I do, I guess I'm scared that she is going to dump me.
- Sally: You are feeling insecure. That is understandable, but don't try to force the issue too much. Let the relationship go where it is going to go. Just be patient.
- Peter: That's good advice.
- Sally: Did you say anything really terrible that could be construed as a deal breaker?
- Peter: No. Not really.
- Sally: Good. Then I think you'll be ok. Where is she going to in Africa?
- Peter: She is going to Lesotho.
- Sally: Oh wow! I would love to go there. It is not as beautiful as South Africa, but I hear it's a captivating place.
- Peter: You want to go to South Africa?
- Sally: Oh yeah. It's supposed to be spectacular.
- Peter: Hmmm. That gives me an idea.

Let's Practice!

Can you use the new vocabulary?

Instructions: Read the definitions. Select the correct answer. Practice saying the complete sentences aloud with your partner. Correct each other.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1) To make a big mistake is to ...
 a) bring it
 b) blast it
 c) blow it 2) To end a romantic relationship is to ... someone.
 a) drop
 b) damp
 c) dump 3) If something is fascinating and able to hold people's interest it is ...
 a) captivating
 b) captivate
 c) captivated | 4) If something is extremely beautiful in an eye-catching way it is ...
 a) spectacle
 b) spectacular
 c) spectator 5) To interpret something in a particular way is to ... something.
 a) construe
 b) misconstrue
 c) construct |
|--|---|

Let's Practice!

Sally gives Peter some advice.

Instructions: Proofread the sentences. Correct the mistake. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. She must have has some inclination.

2. I told her she should have tell me earlier.

3. So I can have been part of the decision process.

4. I wouldn't have did that.

5. I may had just blown it again!

Extension Activity

Watch a video about how other countries celebrate New Year.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Pick a country and search online for a video about how the people there celebrate New Year.
- Write down the similarities and differences with your country's New Year traditions.
- Make notes comparing and contrasting the two events.
- Get into small groups and share your findings with your partners.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I research other culture's New Year traditions.

☐ ☐

I take notes on this video.

☐ ☐

I take note of similarities and differences between my country's traditions.

☐ ☐

I explain my descriptions.

☐ ☐

I present it to a group.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to blow it (verb): to make a big mistake
e.g. I just blew it again.
- inclination (noun): the natural tendency someone has to do something in a particular way e.g. She must have had some inclination.
- to dump (verb): to end a romantic relationship e.g. I'm scared that she is going to dump me.
- to construe (verb): to interpret words or actions in a particular way e.g. Did you say anything really terrible that could be construed as a deal breaker?
- captivating (adjective): capable of attracting and holding interest e.g. I hear it's a captivating place.
- spectacular (adjective): amazing; dramatic; eye-catching e.g. It's supposed to be spectacular.

Learning Points

Uses of the Perfect Modals

Perfect modals are useful when you want to talk about past possibility, certainty and regret.

Refer to the chart for a summary of the different Perfect modals and their uses.

Remember the form is:

subject + modal + have + past participle

Perfect Modal	Use	Example
Could have/couldn't have	you were able to or had the option to do something in the past but do not any longer	You could have been famous - you were a much better tennis player than the others.
Should have/shouldn't have	you were obligated to do this in the past for the current result to be favorable	I shouldn't have said I didn't like the dress. Now she's upset.
Would have/wouldn't have	you were unaware of a condition in the past and the condition no longer exists	I would have picked you up if I had known you were coming here as well.
May have/may not have	you were not certain whether an event did or did not happen in the past	I may have told her about the party. I can't remember.
Must have/must not have	you are fairly sure, from evidence that this happened in the past in all probability	He must not have turned off his phone, because it's going straight to voicemail.

Examples:

- She must have had some inclination.
- I told her she should have told me earlier.
- I could have been part of the decision process.
- I wouldn't have done that.

Learning Points

The Comparative Clause: As ... As

You can show comparisons and contrast using the structure as ... as

You can use as ... as in the following pattern:

(not) as adjective/adverb as

She is not as independent as her sister.

An only child develops as well as a child with siblings.

You can use as ... as in these ways:

1. to emphasize two equal elements

Example:

He is as strong as his brother.

2. to show that two things are slightly unequal

Example:

Jim does not like comedies as much as I do.

3. to emphasize a difference

Example:

She is not as artistic as I am.

Examples:

- I'm not as independent as Amy.
- As smart and adventurous as me?
- She is as tall as you are too.
- She can't dance as well as you can.
- I know she cares about our relationship as much as I do.

